THE INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF ACCOUNTING

The International Journal of Accounting is a quarterly publication established in 1966 at the University of Illinois by the late Professor Vernon K. Zimmerman. The aims of The International Journal of Accounting are to advance the academic and professional understanding of accounting theory and practice from an international perspective and viewpoint. The journal recognizes that international accounting is influenced by a variety of forces (i.e., governmental, political, and economic).

Managing Editor: Professor A. Rashad Abdel-khalik, Professor of Accountancy and V. K. Zimmerman Professor in International Accounting, Director of the V. K. Zimmerman Center at the University of Illinois

VERNON K. ZIMMERMAN CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION AND RESEARCH IN ACCOUNTING AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS URBANA-CHAMPAIGN

The V. K. Zimmerman Center was originally established in 1962 as the Center for International Education and Research in Accounting (CIERA), leading the nation in the study and teaching of international topics as they relate to the field of accounting. The International Journal of Accounting, coordinated and published by the Zimmerman Center, advances scholarly and professional understanding of accounting theory and practice from an international perspective. Published by World Scientific and edited by Professor A. Rashad Abdel-khalik, the journal encourages a broad view of the origins and development of accounting with an emphasis on its functions in an increasingly interdependent global economy and invites manuscripts that help explain current international accounting practice.

Illinois' landmark contributions to accounting research and education date back to 1902, when the first accounting courses were developed. The Illinois tradition of excellence in graduate accountancy education began with the awarding of the department's first master's degree in 1922 and its first Ph. D. in 1939.

KU LEUVEN

Founded in 1425, KU Leuven is one of Europe's oldest and most prestigious universities. Celebrating its 600th anniversary, KU Leuven has a rich history of academic excellence and innovation. Over the centuries, KU Leuven has been home to many great minds, including Desiderius Erasmus and Andreas Vesalius. Today, it continues to foster a vibrant academic community, attracting students and scholars from around the world.

The Research Group Accounting at KU Leuven is part of the Faculty of Economics and Business (FEB) and focuses on high-quality research and education in accounting. The research group is present at FEB's campuses in Leuven, Brussels, Antwerp, and Kortrijk and is also involved in educational activities in Hasselt. In terms of research, the group specializes in auditing, corporate governance, and management accounting, using empirical and experimental methodologies. The faculty members of the Accounting Research Group regularly publish in highly regarded academic journals, demonstrating their expertise and contributing to the advancement of knowledge across multiple fields of accounting.

WELCOME REMARKS

Dear Participants,

Welcome to the Illinois International Accounting Symposium hosted by KU Leuven. We are delighted that you have joined us. We hope that you will enjoy the opportunity from the symposium to exchange ideas.

This symposium's objectives are to exchange new research ideas, stimulate accounting study, and advance scholarly and professional understanding of accounting theory and practice from an international perspective.

We would like to thank the authors, the discussants, the panelists, and all the participants who are contributing to making this symposium a success.

We especially would like to thank KU Leuven for the generous support of hosting the symposium.

Thank you for coming and have a great symposium!

Sincerely,

SYMPOSIUM ORGANIZING COMMITTEE AND DIRECTORS

A. Rashad Abdel-khalik
Symposium Co-Chair
Managing Editor, The International Journal of Accounting
Professor of Accountancy
V. K. Zimmerman Professor of International Accounting
Gies College of Business
University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, USA

Rashad is a Professor of Accountancy and the V. K. Zimmerman Professor of International Accounting at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. He studied accounting and economics at Cairo University (B. Comm with Honors in 1961), Indiana University (MBA in 1965; and MA in Economics, 1966), and the University of Illinois (Ph. D. in 1972). He taught at Columbia University, Duke University, and the University of Florida before returning to the University of Illinois in 2000. He is a two-time winner of the AAA Competitive Manuscript Contest. His research appeared in major accounting journals, including The Accounting Review, Journal of Accounting Research, Contemporary Accounting Research, and ABACUS among others. His current interest is in the area of risk and financial derivatives as reflected by his recent books: Accounting for Risk, Hedging and Complex Contracts (Routledge, 2013) and BRAZEN: Big Banks, Swap Mania and the Fallout (World Scientific, 2019). Currently he is completing a manuscript for his third book on Embedded Derivatives, Accounting and Reporting: Text and Cases to be published by World Scientific, perhaps in 2025. He was the founding editor of the Journal of Accounting Literature, and the senior Editor of The Accounting Review (1990-1994). Starting 2001, he became the senior Editor-in-Chief and is currently the Managing Editor of The International Journal of Accounting. He began organizing The Illinois International Accounting Research Symposia in 2001 by partnering with other international universities in their locations. The symposium has succeeded the regular conference that started in 1967. He organized and coordinated nearly sixty international accounting conferences and made presentations at more than 120 universities worldwide. He was involved in 51 dissertations as a chair (25), co-chair (4), and a committee member (22). In 2021, The American Accounting Association granted him the Outstanding Accounting Educator award.

19 MAY 2025 (MONDAY) PH. D. CONSORTIUM PROGRAM DETAILS

The Ph. D. Consortium is a forum where Ph. D. students can present their research ideas, confront them with the scientific community, receive mentor feedback, and tie cooperation bounds. Students will receive inspiration from their peers and will have a chance to discuss their research objectives with senior community members in the context of an established international conference.

The Consortium has the following objectives:

- Provide a setting where Ph. D. students can present their work and meet other students
- Provide feedback on students' current research and guidance on future research directions
- Offer each student comments and fresh perspectives on their work from researchers and students outside their institution
- Promote the development of a supportive community of scholars and a spirit of collaborative research
- Contribute to the conference goals through interaction with other researchers and conference events

Touristic trip in Ghent

Estimated time of arrival back to Leuven 18:00

TRANSPORTATION

For people coming to Leuven

From Brussels National Airport (Zaventem)

You may or may not have a welcoming party awaiting you at the airport when you arrive. Therefore, if you are not being met at the airport, or if you somehow miss the welcoming party, there are two ways for you to continue your journey on to Leuven.

1. Take a taxi from the airport. This will cost around € 70.
2. Take the Leuven bound train at the airport itself. This will cost around € 8.80. These trains usually have Luik (Liège, in French) as its final destination but they stop in Leuven en route. The Brussels-Leuven trip takes about 20 minutes by express train.
Do not take the train going to Louvain-la-Neuve since this will bring you not to Leuven but to the French-language university, Université Catholique de Louvain in Ottignies.

From Brussels South Charleroi Airport

Take the shuttle coach that leaves the airport every hour to take you to the main Brussels railway station (Brussels-Midi). The shuttle coach stop is at the crossing of Rue de France and Rue de l'Instruction. The shuttle costs € 11 and tickets are sold inside the airport terminal. The trip lasts around one hour. At Brussels-Midi railway station, you can take the train to Leuven.

Do not take the train going to Louvain-la-Neuve since this will bring you not to Leuven but to the French-language university, Université Catholique de Louvain in Ottignies.

It is advisable to have already some cash in euro (€) when you arrive in case the money exchange offices would be closed.
